

Privacy Notice

Introduction

This document refers to personal data, which is defined as information concerning any living person (a natural person who hereafter will be called the Data Subject) that is not already in the public domain.

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) seeks to protect and enhance the rights of data subjects. These rights cover the safeguarding of personal data, protection against the unlawful processing of personal data and the unrestricted movement of personal data within the EU. It should be noted that GDPR does not apply to information already in the public domain.

PD Devices Ltd is pleased to provide the following Privacy Notice:

Personal Data

PD Devices Ltd uses the information collected from you to carry on its commercial activities (for example to provide and request quotations, make telephone contact, email you marketing information which PD Devices Ltd believes may be of interest to you and your business). In you making initial contact you consent to PD Devices Ltd maintaining a marketing dialogue with you until you either opt out (which you can do at any stage) or we decide to desist in promoting our products and services.

Some personal data may be collected about you from the forms and surveys you complete, from records of our correspondence and phone calls and details of your visits to our website, including but not limited to personally identifying information like Internet Protocol (IP) addresses. PD Devices Ltd may from time to time use such information to identify its visitors. PD Devices Ltd may also collect statistics about the behavior of visitors to its website.

PD Devices Ltd website may use cookies, which is a string of information that a website stores on a visitor's computer, and that the visitor's browser provides to the website each time the visitor returns. www.pddevices.co.uk uses cookies to help PD Devices Ltd identify and track visitors and their website access preferences. PD Devices Ltd website visitors who do not wish to have cookies placed on their computers should set their browsers to refuse cookies before using PD Devices Ltd website.

Any information PD Devices Ltd holds about you and your business encompasses all the details we hold about you and any sales and purchasing transactions including any third-party information we have obtained about you from public sources and our own suppliers such as credit referencing agencies.

PD Devices Ltd will only collect the information needed so that it can provide you with the necessary commercial services.

Legal basis for processing any personal data

To meet PD Devices Ltd contractual obligations to customers and to also respond to marketing enquiries.

Legitimate interests pursued by PD Devices Ltd

To promote the commercial activities offered by PD Devices Ltd.

Consent

Through agreeing to this privacy notice you are consenting to PD Devices Ltd processing your personal data for the purposes outlined. You can withdraw consent at any time by emailing gdpr@pddevices.co.uk or writing to us, see last section for full contact details.

Disclosure

PD Devices Ltd may on occasions pass your Personal Information to third parties exclusively to process work on its behalf. PD Devices Ltd requires these parties to agree to process this information based on our instructions and requirements consistent with this Privacy Notice and GDPR.

PD Devices Ltd do not broker or pass on information gained from your engagement with the agency without your consent. However, PD Devices Ltd may disclose your Personal Information to meet legal obligations, regulations or valid governmental request. The agency may also enforce its Terms and Conditions, including investigating potential violations of its Terms and Conditions to detect, prevent or mitigate fraud or security or technical issues; or to protect against imminent harm to the rights, property or safety of PD Devices Ltd or the wider community.

Retention Policy

PD Devices Ltd will process personal data during the duration of any contract and will continue to store only the personal data needed for six years after the contract has expired to meet any legal obligations. After five years any personal data not needed will be deleted.

Data storage

Data is held in United Kingdom using different (multiple) servers. PD Devices Ltd does not store personal data outside the EEA.

Your rights as a data subject

At any point whilst PD Devices Ltd is in possession of or processing your personal data, all data subjects have the following rights:

- Right of access – you have the right to request a copy of the information that we hold about you.
- Right of rectification – you have a right to correct data that we hold about you that is inaccurate or incomplete.
- Right to be forgotten – in certain circumstances you can ask for the data we hold about you to be erased from our records.
- Right to restriction of processing – where certain conditions apply you have a right to restrict the processing.
- Right of portability – you have the right to have the data we hold about you transferred to another organisation.
- Right to object – you have the right to object to certain types of processing such as direct marketing.
- Right to object to automated processing, including profiling – you also have the right not to be subject to the legal effects of automated processing or profiling.

In the event that PD Devices Ltd refuses your request under rights of access, we will provide you with a reason as to why, which you have the right to legally challenge.

PD Devices Ltd your request can confirm what information it holds about you and how it is processed

You can request the following information:

- Identity and the contact details of the person or organisation PD Devices Ltd that has determined how and why to process your data.
